○ Noun ● Adjective ● Adverb

→ En anglais (comme en français), on utilise des déterminants possessifs pour parler de ce qui appartient à quelqu'un.

SINGULIER	my	} + nom your his her its PLURIEL	our	} your their ⚠ En anglais, le déterminant dépend du possesseur et non du possédé.

- Pour une filles, on utilise her + nom :
her brother, her sister, her room, her books.
- Pour un garçon, c'est his + nom :
his sister, his brother, his room, his books.

1 Remplace l'expression au génitif par le déterminant possessif correspondant.

- I love Wednesday's bedroom. her
- Look at Pugsley's sofa! his
- Here is Thing's room. its
- Welcome to Gomez and Morticia's manor! their

2 Complète avec le déterminant possessif qui convient.

- Wednesday and Enid share a room: this is ... room. their
- We love the Addams family, it's ... favourite family! our
- I think ... favourite character is Cousin Itt! What about you? Who is ... favourite character? my
- The manor is enormous and ... rooms are big, too! your
