

The melting of glaciers

Today, we can see a big problem in the world...the melting of glaciers. Since several years, the glaciers melt more in more.

This problem persist because the human pollute many and there is an elevation of the sea level who continue to go up more in more there is too the disappearance of polars bears and so their habitats...so their life expectancy decrease.

For remety to this problem, we can open bigs tarpanlins. If we do that, we will be able to protect snow from sun rays.

In Suiss, Italy ans Austria, they do ever that.

Me, I propose ti sign up petition, the Monday 25th February 2023 at 8:00am behind the mayor house...It's a very good idea for me because the world will can see this big problem and who we are.

Good bye
