

TEXT 1

She may be a powerhouse with a racket in hand, but Serena Williams is an even bigger star with a hammer in hand. In February, Serena (through her nonprofit The Serena Williams Fund in partnership with Helping Hands Jamaica) built another school! As in, literally helped to build it.

The Salt Marsh Primary School in Jamaica is one of several schools the Serena Williams Fund helped to build—others are located in Kenya and Uganda—, another step towards fulfilling Serena's mission of “ensuring equal access to education.”

↑ Serena Williams literally helped to build a school,
Global Citizen (2016)

TEXT 1

She may be a powerhouse with a racket in hand, but Serena Williams is an even bigger star with a hammer in hand. In February, Serena (through her nonprofit The Serena Williams Fund in partnership with Helping Hands Jamaica) built another school! As in, literally helped to build it.

The Salt Marsh Primary School in Jamaica is one of several schools the Serena Williams Fund helped to build—others are located in Kenya and Uganda—, another step towards fulfilling Serena's mission of “ensuring equal access to education.”

↑ Serena Williams literally helped to build a school,
Global Citizen (2016)

